Mini Semester in the Offing

Planning is underway to offer a number of courses during the period from October 28 to December 20th. Among the courses proposed are the following:

Transactional Analysis Workshop
Ireland in the 20th Century
Questions People Ask About Death
Reader's Theatre Workshop
Community Music Program
Special Workshop in drawing from the model.

There will be a special two-session course in Bar Tending that will be held on Monday, October 28th, and Tuesday, October 29th.

Descriptive folders and registration materials should be available after October 16th. Course fees are reasonable.

Interim 75: DRUID LEGACY

Several faculty members and students are planning a three-week study-tour of Ireland, Wales, and England for the January interim.

The first planning session met on October 10, and another meets on October 11, at 10:30 A.M. in Mercy Hall.

Interested? See Glenn Giuttari (Music Department)

Readers Theatre

The Readers Theatre will tape a special children's show, The Lorax, by Dr. Seuss, at Channel 10 studio, October 23, for a later presentation.

Religious Studies

The College Theology Society will hold its annual New England regional meeting here, on Saturday, October 19, from 10 A.M. to 4 P.M.

The Reverend Philip King and Dr. PHEME PERKINS will be the speakers at the meeting whose theme is: The Bible in Theological Perspectives. Reverend King is professor of Old Testament and Hebrew at Boston College, and president of the Albright Institute of Archaeological Research. Dr. Perkins is assistant professor of biblical theology at Boston College, and is a member of the editorial staff of the Catholic Biblical Quarterly.

This will be the first time that SRC has been host for the CTS meeting.

Further details will be circulated on campus.

Faculty Items

Dr. Frank Maguire will be a guest on a WALE talk show (1400), from 1:30 to 3:00, on October 11. He will discuss some ethical and religious dimensions of human experimentation, drugs, behavior alteration, psychosurgery, and fetal experimentation.

Dr. Maguire has been appointed a member of a task force organized by the department of gerontology at U.R.I. to examine the topics of dying and death.

Members of the task force will meet with anyone interested in considering this matter, at the Martin Luther King Center, on Tuesday, October 15, 7:30 - 9:30.

Automobile Registration

Every member of the SRC community - whether resident student, day student, faculty, administration, staff - must register for a new college sticker, if he/she has a car on campus.

Registration for the new sticker may be accomplished on Tuesday, October 15, and Wednesday, October 16, all day, in the lobby of O'Hare.

Your complete cooperation will be appreciated.
